New Evidence in Hall-Mills Case

Hearing Thursday Reveals Fact That State Has Some Hitherto Unrevealed Evidence to Present to Grand Jury—Willie Stevens New Chief Object of Attack.

Somerville, N. J., Aug. 27 (AP).—Hitherto unrevealed fingerprint evidence and a new word picture of what happened four years ago under a crumpled tree here will be presented to the grand jury when the state seeks three indictments in the Hall-Mills murder case next month.

A finger soiled calling card, supposed to have been lost four years ago but offered in evidence yesterday, has singled out Willie Stevens, eccentric brother-in-law of the slain rector, as the chief object of the state's attack.

The Episcopal clergyman was killed while defending his pretty choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, from an attack in the presence of Mrs. Hall, in the opinion of Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson, as outlined in the hearing yesterday of an unsuccessful plea for bail by Stevens and Henry Carpenter, Mrs. Hall's cousin.

"They never intended to kill this unfortunate man," said Mr. Simpson. "He got his wound trying to defend the woman. I think Mrs. Hall meant to confront these people, and murder was done right before her eyes."

"And when that poor man was murdered, she still loved him and did not want his body carried away, like a carrion thrown away, in a pit. She put a card at his feet that anybody might know he was not a tramp."

"I can demonstrate that this man Stevens was on the scene of the crime on the night of the murder near enough to put a card at the feet of the dead man."

Stevens was further thrown into the foreground when Robert H. McCarter, chief of defense counsel, backed his application for bail for the two by an affidavit from J. Carter Rice of Highland Park, who swore that Carpenter was at his home on the night of September 14, 1922, when the crime was committed.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)
Williamstown, Mass.—Song birds in other parts of the country who want to attain stardom like Marion Talley might have the Kansas prairies analyzed by a chemist. A scientist has informed the Institute of Politics that perhaps cultural traits can be induced by fertilization of the soil in which food stuffs are grown.

Philadelphia—The dentist has replaced the ducking stool. Women who are pernicious gossip should have their teeth fixed. The opinion has been expressed to the International Dental Congress that poor teeth cause some girls to become bitter toward society because the other sex shuns them.

New York—The next celebrity Mary and Doug want to see is the engineer of a train headed west. They say they are in a hurry to get to California to see the sunshine again. Now that a hot wave is in prospect after protracted rain they'll probably see too much sun on the way home.

Philadelphia—A married man should have one night a week off, in the opinion of Judge Samuel Gray, a bachelor. And so he freed a hubby accused of desertion after quarrels that started when he would not explain where he went every seventh night.

New York—A suggestion for birthday parties when a candle for each year would crowd the table. At a dinner to August Hecksher, philanthropist, there was one candle burned with degrees like a thermometer to indicate he had lived 75 years.

Philadelphia—Father Foss has done something that Father Knickerbocker refused to do. Jack Dempsey is a boxing license. The number is 151. Two of the digits indicate the general opinion of Father Knickerbocker's speculative franchise as to Dempsey's position among the heavyweights after September 22.

New York—William Hudson would rather help him boxing in New York than take $2,000 for telling what he thinks of Dempsey and Tammey. He has refused an offer to write about them because of his official position.

Indianapolis—World Hagen has on himself. No sir, but he'll play for other folks for a suitcase fee. This is his answer to a challenge of George Hagen for a match for a purse of $2,500.

Asbury Park, N. J.—Big Pat McDonald, who throws weights for fun and for a living keeps traffic in order in New York's Broadway. Think of making a traffic life or two in the city on his vacation. Many say they wish him a safe trip. He'll be out the other day without many thanks, "out about" he remarked.

Sun Shone Bright On Ulster Co. Fair

But Many Were Sad 'Cause Bosco Wasn't There, While Others Were Glad That the Weather Was Fair, and the Band Played "Horses" With a Gay and Careless Air.

Bosco, he of eat 'em alive fame, is no more to be seen along the Midway at the Ulster County Fair at Ellenville, and a half hearted attempt to fill his niche in the Hall of Midway-fame is being made by something termed "Half pig-half rabbit" which all who attended the annual fair Thursday were urged to see at an expenditure of ten cents. Then there is Rattlesnake Ralph and those who missed dear old Bosco had faint hopes that maybe Ralph was going to eat 'em alive, but alas and alas all he did was dispense rattlesnake oil at so much per bottle, while several half sleepy snakes reposed in boxes on the ground in front of him.

The third day of the Ellenville fair dawned bright and clear and a good sized crowd turned out in response to the favorable weather and their appearance on the fair grounds was a welcome sight to the Midway artists who had been reaping but a slim harvest owing to the unfavorable weather that had welcomed in the fair this week. Even the members of the Citizens' Band of this city, which is again furnishing the music for the fair, felt the influence of the sunny weather and under the leadership of Harry Misenholder appeared to put more pep—if there were possible into the afternoon concert.

The fair officials also felt the influence of the rays of Old Sol and as a result four horse races were staged during the afternoon and two extra attractions were offered the public. The first was a tug of war between two teams; one from the Barrows Farm House and the other of campers at Greenfield, and the other a demonstration by the Ellenville fire department in extinguishing a blazing gasoline fire with the aid of chemicals. The free acts on the bill including Captain Simmons, the one-legged and one-armed diving wonder, and the two fair and shapely Elliott girls in acrobatic feats.

Typical Holiday Crowd.
It was a typical holiday fair crowd that crowded the Midway at the fair Thursday munching "hot dogs" and ice cream sandwiches while they tried their skill at the various booths. That is the sterner half would bend his body into positions made famous by world known baseball pitchers and then hurl the "Artful Dodger" he of the kinky, woolly hair, the black complexion, the red lips and pearly teeth whose family salutation of "Try yer luck, Bosco" and then would dodge the baseball buried at his head as it stuck through a hole in the center of the canvas back stop, was missing from the Midway.

The photographer, however, was on hand and here and there aside from the crowding, jostling multitude that thronged the Midway streets, stood familiar groups in that unhappy pose that seems essential to having your picture "took." And then the photographer finishes the photo in his time and exclaims as he passes it to you: "A really wonderful likeness of you and the kids."

Rattlesnake Ralph.
Rattlesnake Ralph, last name unknown, a young man with a continuous flow of language, a small mustache stuck under his nose, and his hair slicked down, probably with rattlesnake oil, or soap, drew a large audience around to hear him "spiel," and his "spiel" was good. In front of him were scattered several boxes with wire mesh screens which contained rattlesnakes, and which he pointed to from time to time in his "lecture." The oil, according to Rattlesnake Ralph was good for anything from headache to scotch, which covers a wide territory on the human anatomy.

Then when one crowd tired of hearing the virtues of rattlesnake oil expounded could clear away the cobwebs from a third brain by a ride in the Ferris wheel, or the one's luck with the wheels of chance by spending the small sum of a dime, ten cents, and "maybe" winning a handsome prize or some other article.

The Noonday Club's Gift.
The visitor at the fair on Thursday was shown with pride by the fair officials the gift of the Noonday Club of Ellenville to the fair. The club had built the judges' stand on the race track which also houses the office of the fair officials. They also said that they were going to erect a concrete grandstand in time for the annual fair in 1927. The present grandstand was erected within a very brief period of time after the fire of several weeks ago swept the stables, grandstand and judges' stand to the ground, as well as damaging several homes outside the fair grounds.

The stables are to be erected on the opposite of the race track across from the grandstand, and near the modern car stable that housed the cattle exhibit. This modern car stable was erected at a cost of nearly five thousand dollars, and in a big improvement over the old sheds that used to house exhibit.

Fire Department on Hand.
The two fire trucks of the Ellenville fire department were on the grounds during the afternoon and gave an exhibition of pumping and spraying.

41 Known Dead In Mine Disaster

Rescuers Continue Search For Three More Miners Believed Buried—56 Were Trapped By The Explosion On Thursday.

Clymer, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP).—The bodies of nine miners, badly burned and mutilated, were recovered from the Clymer mine at noon today, bringing the known death toll of yesterday's explosion to 41. Rescuers continued the search for three miners, who it was believed were buried under heavy falls of rock and earth.

The bodies were removed to the temporary morgue, established in a tool shed a mile from the mine mouth. Here they were placed beside the bodies of 32 fellow workers, whose lives were snuffed out by the terrific blast yesterday.

The condition of the nine bodies led the rescuers to believe that these men were trapped in the very midst of the explosion, for the remains were in such condition that identification was practically impossible. Of the 41 bodies recovered, only four without marks of violence.

56 Were Trapped.
Figures given out early today by A. J. Musser, vice president and general manager of the corporation, a subsidiary of the New York Central Railroad and Dr. Fred St. Clair, coroner of Indiana county, revealed that 56 miners were trapped by the explosion which occurred at 1:39 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Ten miners escaped with their lives and four others are in a Dixonville hospital suffering from gas and shock.

None of the bodies had been definitely identified at the improvised morgue in a machine shop, one mile from the scene of the blast.

All those still entrapped were believed to have practically no chance of remaining alive, after a company physician reported the tunnels so heavy with gas that no human could survive. Mr. Musser, however, clung to the belief that at least a portion of the men had made their way into safe territory.

Meanwhile, rescue workers pushed their way slowly but steadily into the debris-strewn mine, while, lining the hillsides about the mine mouth, anxious women and children waited eagerly for news of husband or father.

In an improvised morgue, about a mile from the mine, the twelve bodies recovered lay, wooden planks their couch. Eight of these badly burned and shattered, had not been identified.

Four in Hospital.
In Dixonville hospital, four others caught by the explosion were recovering from burns. The thirteen who were believed to have escaped through a ventilator shaft leading from the depths of the mine to the hillsides, were said to have scattered to their homes so quickly, that a definite check on their identity was impossible. Authorities planned to visit the various homes today, in an effort to learn just who and how many escaped.

Late last night many of the wives and children of the entombed men left the mine mouth after a vigil of ten hours. At dawn they returned to the hillsides flanking the ill-fated pit. They were ignorant of the fact that thirty-two bodies had been brought out and removed to the temporary morgue. A corps of Salvation Army lassies labored all night preparing the bodies so that later in the day the stricken miners' villages might be summoned to identify them.

Black damp took the lives of the first four men brought up. Their bodies were unmarked. The others, however, were burned badly, some beyond recognition. These victims, at work farther inside the mine when the fatal blast carried death and destruction through the dark recesses, were trapped by the wall of fire which came with the explosion. The blast spent itself in a moment, and the wrecked mine did not catch fire.

J. J. Forbes, supervising engineer of the United States Bureau of Mines, Pittsburgh, was in charge of a federal investigation started today. A second investigation also was started by state authorities.

Mine officials believed that 134 children were made fatherless by the explosion, the second in this territory within three years.

In January, 1922, fifty-six lives were lost at the Starford mine at Shankstown.

60 Cases of Alleged Liquor Captured

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP).—Albert Johnson, 51 years old, this city and Walter Luther, 31 years old, of Tonawanda, are detained at police headquarters today for the United States custom department. The men were arrested early today when they drove automobiles over the upper bridge in which customs inspectors claim liquor was concealed. More than sixty cases were taken from the two cars, it is said. The men and automobiles were confiscated.

Texas Democrats Return to Polls

To Decide Between Governor "Ma" Ferguson and Attorney General Dan Moody—Vote Will Be Heavy.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 27 (AP).—The second Texas primary campaign for Democratic gubernatorial nomination closed today with Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and Attorney General Dan Moody using the Ku Klux Klan and "Fergusonism" issues, respectively, as whips to keep their supporters in line for the runoff of balloting tomorrow.

They will face the barrier with Moody's backers claiming the inside track by virtue of his 120,000 vote lead over the woman governor in the first primary race. The attorney-general, however, lacked about 1,700 votes of a majority in the first primary, necessitating the runoff.

Moody has carried his slogan "down with Fergusonism" to all parts of the state in an intensive speaking tour. He has made from two to five addresses each day. James E. Ferguson husband of the governor, has been active in the field with daily speeches charging Moody is supported by the Klan and the "oil interests." Mrs. Ferguson has made but one speech, but has issued frequent statements stressing the issues set forth by her husband.

Two other contests are scheduled tomorrow, run-offs being necessary to decide the nomination for attorney-general and treasurer.

Interest in recent rallies indicates tomorrow's vote will be nearly as heavy as in July.

Louisiana Hit By Heavy Storm

Tropical Storm Causes Death of Five and Causes Damage Which Ranges Between Five and Ten Million Dollars.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 27 (AP).—Five persons were known to be dead, several others were missing and estimates of damage wrought by the tropical hurricane that swept through Southern Louisiana Wednesday night ranged between five and ten million dollars as new reports of storm damage reached here today.

The fifth death report was that of a child who drowned at Shriver. Thirteen fishermen are missing from the colony at Barataria Bay, 65 miles below New Orleans.

As lines of communication are restored throughout the southern half of the state, reports of damage to crops and property continues to mount. Thousands of acres of sugar cane and corn were flattened by the 100 miles an hour wind.

Hundreds of homes and business houses in the storm area were damaged, many being demolished.

Railroad transportation was practically back to normal today after many trains being delayed yesterday from five to fifteen hours.

Greece Now Has Business Cabinet

Chiefs of All Political Parties Agree to Support Cabinet of General Condylis—Army and Navy Officers to Be Kept Out of Politics.

Athens, Aug. 27 (AP).—The chiefs of all the political parties in Greece have announced their willingness to support the new cabinet formed by General Condylis, which is described as "a business cabinet," and in which army and navy officers and politicians are not included.

General Condylis, who recently headed the coup which overthrew the Pangalos administration, formed the cabinet after it was found impossible to get together a coalition government.

The people generally express satisfaction over the new regime. A statement of policy announces the intention to insure such discipline in the army and navy as to restrict the officers to their professional duties and prevent them from meddling in politics. It promises that the government will strive to maintain friendly relations with all neighboring states.

Burns Men May Visit Bay State

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 27 (AP).—Atlantic information from official inside sources was received in this city today from a private dispatch from Concord, N. H., to the effect that the force of 15 detectives representing the William J. Burns Agency, who under the guise of making a survey of local law enforcement in the prohibition violation of political candidates, are soon to visit Massachusetts in connection with political campaign reports.

Railroad Employees Robbed

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., Aug. 27 (AP).—An armed holdup took place today, resulting in the robbery of the Central Railroad of New Jersey in their home and found the men's clothing of $1,000 in cash and jewelry. The holdup was reported by the crew of a Southern Railway train and most of them had cashed their pay checks yesterday.

Catholics Will Wait for Years

Episcopate Announces That Church Services Will Not Be Resumed Until Religious Laws Are Modified or Amended Even If It Means Years of Waiting—Boycott Becomes Serious.

Mexico City, Aug. 27 (AP).—Until Mexico's religious laws are amended or repealed, whether it requires months or years to attain this objective, there will be no resumption of Catholic church services in the republic. This announcement is made by the Catholic Episcopate in a statement to the faithful, in which the belief is expressed that the Mexican government is attempting to create a schism within their ranks.

"But with God's aid" the statement adds, "Catholics will not yield to such threats." It points out that Catholics in Germany "long endured Bismarck's tyrannical laws, but finally recovered their liberty, while the Iron Chancellor saw his efforts discredited and died abandoned in his castle."

"No Hope of Improvement."
The Episcopate sees "no hope of improvement in the situation" because of the denial of Foreign Minister Suarez that he declared in an interview that a law not liked by the people of a country should either be amended or repealed and because of the government's statements that it purposes to maintain a firm attitude in seeing that the religious regulations are carried out.

Catholics Signing Petitions.
It is now planned by the Episcopate to present to Congress petitions signed by a large number of Catholics throughout the republic, for amendment of the religious clauses of the Constitution. It is reported that local Catholic leaders are circulating these petitions and that only lack of time before Congress convenes September 1, prevents the presentation to that body of millions of signatures.

Business Depression Continues.
The business depression due to the economic boycott continues. Catholics in various walks of life assert that they purpose carrying on the boycott until they purchase nothing except absolute necessities. Fears are expressed by shrewd business men that many failures are imminent in the commercial world. Many "to rent" signs and placards announcing bargain sales are to be seen in the business section of the city. They are believed to be due to the boycott.

CLAIM THAT DROWNING HAS HALTED INVESTIGATION

Los Angeles, Aug. 27 (AP).—Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Almee Semple McPherson, declares that the drowning of Russell A. McKinley, blind attorney of Long Beach, had halted, temporarily, at least, a more guided by Angelus Temple investigators to bring about the surrender of one of the evangelist's alleged kidnappers. McKinley and two companions were found drowned at the beach city yesterday, their bodies pinned beneath an automobile which had overturned in a ditch.

Mrs. Kennedy said that the dead attorney had established contact with the alleged kidnappers and had engineered a telephone conversation between Mrs. McPherson and one of the suspects. The evangelist's mother said that her daughter recognized the voice as that of one of her abductors.

CHARLES KNEGO FINED $10; WOLF CASE WAS ADJUDGED

Charles Knego, 17 years old of 17 Dunn street, was arrested by Officer Hicks Thursday on a charge of operating a car owned by Leo Craean of Chapel street without having an operator's license. Knego, while driving the car down Broadway, ran the red light at the intersection of Broadway and the city hall, near Angelus street. The morning Judge Shufeldt fined the young man $10.

Thomas Wolf was arrested Thursday by Acting Sergeant Post on a warrant issued by Joseph Gruber charging Wolf with reckless driving following a collision between their cars several weeks ago. Gruber was arrested at that time on complaint of Wolf and the case was later disposed of in favor of Gruber in police court.

Former State Treasurer H. H. Hamilton, 55, was arrested by Howard Bond, former state treasurer of the New York State, on a charge of operating a car without a license. Hamilton was arrested at the Hotel Hamilton, during the night of August 26, on a charge that he was offering from a nervous breakdown and that his condition is such that he is unable to drive a car. Hamilton was released on a $100 bond and is now in the custody of the police.

A certificate of dissolution of the Walkill Valley Queens Land Corporation has been filed with the secretary of state and an affidavit to that effect filed in the office of the county clerk.

JAW BROKEN BY DYNAMITE EXPLOSION

Floyd Weyman of Monticello received a broken jaw and numerous cuts and bruises when a charge of dynamite exploded when struck by a pick which he was using in digging a well on his premises. Mrs. Weyman, who was looking on, was also injured. It is feared Weyman will lose the sight of his eye. While engaged in digging a well he placed half a stick of dynamite in the excavation. It failed to explode and he placed a similar charge which exploded later, while picking away the earth and rock, his pick struck the first charge, which failed to explode with the second charge.

GEORGE DELANEY STRUCK BY AN AUTOMOBILE

George Delaney of 14 Andrew street was struck and knocked down by a car driven by Harley Keator of No. 1 Albert street Thursday evening. Mr. Keator was driving on a street car track when he struck Delaney. Delaney was taken to the Kingston City Hospital. His wounds were treated and at 4:15 he was removed to his home at High Falls.

Both cars are total wrecks. Marshall Jones a brother of Delaney took Delaney's car and Keator's car to High Falls and for what remained of Sunday. Several stitches are necessary to close the cuts in one arm and an X-ray will be taken about the face and arm and was brought by a passing motorist to the Kingston City Hospital. His wounds were treated and at 4:15 he was removed to his home at High Falls.

Five Hundred See Valentino's Body

Despite Fact That Public Is Barred, Thousands Still Storm Funeral Parlor—Admittance by Card Only—Memorial Services in Los Angeles.

New York, Aug. 27 (AP).—Rudolph Valentino's body today continued to be magnet for thousands of curious and admiring persons, despite orders barring the public from the undertaker's establishment where it rests.

Hundreds were driven away from the doors of the mortuary chapel on upper Broadway by a police guard 300 strong yesterday to prevent repetition of disorders by the unruly crowds that have flocked to the bier.

Nearly 500 persons were admitted to see the body yesterday but only one of them lacked a card. She was a wrinkled old Italian woman from the star's birthplace of Castellana. Many tried to enter with persons bearing cards. Several women who did enter fainted when they saw the body. Many girls hoped to gain entry by bringing flowers, but these were accepted at the door and the girls were barred.

A fascist guard was withdrawn at police request after a protest by anti-fascist Italians.

St. George Ullman, Valentino's manager, has received a cablegram from Winifred Hudnut, the dead star's second wife, who is now in Europe, suggesting that the body be cremated and placed in the Hudnut vault at Woodlawn Cemetery.

"I think it should be buried in Hollywood. That is the appropriate resting place," said Mr. Ullman. The decision, however, awaits the arrival Tuesday of Valentino's brother.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27 (AP).—Rudolph Valentino's horse, on which the screen star was accustomed to ride the hillside trails with fellow members of the Breakfast Club, will open the memorial services to be held here by the club today. The horse, led by Normal Kerry, film actor, and George Fitzmaurice, director, will follow the same trails today, his dead master's boots reversed in the stirrups.

Held on Bad Check Charges

Young Man, Who Claims He Is Baron Von Krupp, Jr., Using the Name of George A. Gabor in This Country Is Held For Pending Bad Checks.

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 27 (AP).—Federal immigration officers planned today to question further the young man under arrest here who claims to be Baron George Ester Frederick Von Krupp, Jr., a disowned son of the head of the Krupp arms factory in Germany. He admits using the name George Adolman Gabor in the eastern United States, where he is wanted on bad check charges.

In connection with his story that he was disowned four years ago, went to Hungary and became a Hungarian citizen under the name of Gabor and then came to this country as a college student, immigration officials hope to learn whether there may be grounds for deporting him as an undesirable alien. If he has broken American laws as charged.

The young man said last night he would waive extradition to return to Wilmington, Del., to face a charge of issuing a bad check. He denied ever having cashed a check there of in Pittsburgh, Pa., where he also is wanted. Originally he was arrested in connection with a bad check complaint from Denver, but the complainant, an automobile agency official, later refused to press the charge.

Investigators here are inclined, they said, to place more credence in the story told by Gabor's companion, Charles Tetsch, a Brown University student, who declares Gabor cashed checks in both Pittsburgh and Wilmington.

The youth's claim to relationship with the famous German family has been repeatedly denied by those authorized to speak for the family.

TWO MEN INJURED IN COLLISION AT ACCORD

Samuel Stein, driver for Bittberg the Ellenville baker, was painfully injured Thursday morning when the bread truck he was driving collided with a Ford runabout driven by Henry Swacha of High Falls.

The crash occurred about 8:20, just south of the Accord Reformed church, and was a head-on collision. Stein was treated by Dr. Blumberg, being taken to Ellenville by Dr. Palmer of Kerhonkson. Several stitches are necessary to close the cuts in one arm and an X-ray will be taken about the face and arm and was brought by a passing motorist to the Kingston City Hospital. His wounds were treated and at 4:15 he was removed to his home at High Falls.

JURY RATES SNAKE BITE AT $40,000

Railroad Worker Gets Large Verdict in Suit Brought in Nebraska Court.

Lincoln, Neb.—Forty thousand dollars for a snake bite is the amount that a jury here has ordered the Northwestern Railroad company to pay to Herbert H. Brannan, a former roundhouse employee at Chadron. The verdict is based on the claim of Brannan that his present condition that of a physical wreck, is due entirely to the fact that, while he was working under an engine one day, in a pit partly filled with water a moccasin snake dropped from above into his glove, open at the wrist, and before he could get it out the reptile had bitten him several times. This was on July 23, 1924, and since then he has had to have seven operations performed on his right arm, which left him a cripple and disabled him for life.

Record Judgment.
The judgment is one of the largest ever obtained in the Nebraska courts against a railroad company. The man's right arm is bent at the elbow and cannot be straightened and it was the sight of this that caused the jury to give him $40,000, although he had asked for $60,000. One eye is partly paralyzed and he is much underweight. He said he was unable to dress or undress himself.

The case was fought hard for days, with one set of witnesses telling that the pits under the engines in the roundhouse were not kept clean, had water in them most of the time and were a favorite resort for snakes, frogs and lizards. Complaints to the foreman had brought a response that they ought to be too hard boiled as railroad men to complain, it was stated, but the foreman says nobody ever complained to him about snakes being present until after Brannan claimed to have been bitten by one. Other witnesses had not had any trouble from snakes.

Experts Testify.
Zoologists from the state university, testified as to the dangerous toxic effects from the bite of one kind of snake and that bacteria from the teeth of others that were nonpoisonous produced infection. The railroad company said that when the Brannan lawyers first drew the petition they claimed he had been bitten by a pit viper, and later changed this statement when they learned a pit viper was so-called not because he inhabits pits but because of a depression in the head.

The railroad's contention was that Brannan had always been puny and that he had a chronic complaint which was of a progressive nature, and that the crippled arm and poor health were due to lymph stagnation. The company doubted that Brannan ever was bitten by a snake, and called doctors in who diagnosed it as a chronic condition, and railroad men to show the pits are not snake harbors. Brannan claimed the snake dropped from a rail flange into his gauntlet.

Seek Spanish History in Nebraska Fields

Monroe, Neb.—New light is expected to be thrown on early history of the West through excavations being made in the corn fields along Looking-Glass creek north of here by E. E. Blackman, curator of the Nebraska State Historical society.

The curator expects to discover relics and evidence which will establish the site of the massacre by Indians in 1720 of a Spanish caravan under the command of Colonel Villaseur. The massacre, long a matter of dispute among historians of the West, marked the halt of Spanish conquests to the North during the eighteenth century.

Recently discovered documents, located in Spain and France by A. R. Thomas of the University of California, and the discovery of bits of chain armor and ancient coins resulted in the present search for evidence to establish the exact location of the massacre.

New Petrified Forest Discovered in Arizona

Mesa, Ariz.—A new petrified forest has been found. It lies about 100 miles southeast of here, near the line between Pinal and Graham counties and in the midst of the Deer Creek coal field. Edwin Watson, head of the company developing the coal measures, has brought here a section of petrified tree trunk 2 feet in diameter and 18 inches in height, together with many smaller specimens of the agatized material.

The "wood" is of grayish color, in this respect only being dissimilar to that found near Holbrook in northern Arizona. Many specimens were coal black on the surface, the discoloration departing when the pieces were taken from the field.

"Shooters" With 4-Inch Wings Found Petrified

Washington.—The days when man-queens were mosquitoes and prehistoric man probably fought them with clubs were evidenced in an announcement that Prof. Charles Gilmore of the Smithsonian Institution had found the imprint of a four-inch long wing in a rock layer in Grand canyon. While Professor Gilmore estimated the print to be 25,000,000 years old, other scientists believed it was made some 300,000,000 years ago.

Roman Houses
Recent excavations at Ostia, the harbor of ancient Rome, disclose the theory that the Roman house was built around an open court on which windows faced, and had black walls on the street side.

PREDICT SWEDEN AGAIN TO SEE "SILVER NIGHTS"

Volcanic Eruptions Foreshadow the Return This Year of Strange Northern Phenomenon.

Stockholm, Sweden.—"Silver nights," or unusually bright twilight from sunset to sunrise, has been forecast for Sweden this summer by astronomical experts.

Formerly such phenomena caused widespread consternation, as the light was bright enough to read by in Stockholm at midnight. Many people thought it foreshadowed the day of last judgment. Now scientists have discovered it is due to volcanic ash spreading through the upper layers of atmosphere and reflecting the sun's rays back to the earth.

The recent eruptions of a volcano on the Kamchatka peninsula, of another in Japan, and also that of Mauna Loa in the Pacific, foreshadow a recurrence of the extra brilliant twilight this summer.

The Swedish landscape is ordinarily remarkable during the long twilight summer nights, but the silver light gives it a weird beauty.

The earliest systematic observations of the gradual spread of fine volcanic ash date from May, 1883, when the entire island of Krakatoa in the East Indies was blown up by the bursting of a volcano. The explosion was heard as far as the Philippines, Hongkong, western Australia and India. The amount of ashes thrown up has been estimated at 18,000,000 cubic meters.

By November of that year the finer layers reached Europe, causing extra red sunsets, and in Sweden the twilight was made brighter for the next three summers.

In 1902, after the eruption of Mount Pelee, on the West Indian island of Martinique, the dust was first observed in about six weeks.

"Silver nights" were observed in Sweden again in 1908, but exactly where the dust then came from it was not possible to determine, since volcanoes often erupt in isolated regions where the event is not reported.

This Proves It Is

Hot in Washington

When these two charming girls could fry eggs at zero there could be no doubt about its being warm in Washington. The girls are seen trying eggs on the top of the "Zero stone," near the White House, the marker from which all distances are measured.

Britons Take Insurance Against Birth of Twins

London.—The birth of twins or arrest by mistake can now be insured against in England.

General insurance companies, particularly Lloyds, have broadened their scope of "risks coverable" to include practically every demand of their clients.

The latest insurance curiosity is the case of a rather usual-looking man who, fearing that he might be arrested instead of a criminal he said resembled him, applied to Lloyds for coverage against mistaken identity. He was accepted.

Married couples expecting the birth of a child have taken out policies against twins.

Novelties have also been introduced in business insurance, covering some unusual risks. Early last winter a man whose business is river transportation insured against total loss should the Thames freeze before the end of the year.

The general strike brought a rush to underwriting offices, and numerous claims have already arisen from policies issued against losses due to the coal strike. The usual policy issued for the coal strike is one underwriting to pay one three hundred and sixty-fifth of the sum insured for every day of the coal stoppage beyond 14 days. Like the bookmaker, the underwriter alters from day to day the odds he offers in premiums against the end of stoppage at a particular time.

Well Protected

Mrs. Gladys Williams, whose husband is a sea captain, has 15 police dogs at home for protection. In court, on complaints that the neighborhood could not sleep, she stated when the judge suggested she reduce the number.

Has Own Zoo

New York.—With the millions he made in coal George F. Gett runs a zoo of his own for amusement. He is here to see about an elephant, two tigers, two leopards, a panther and a python.

No Forks for Elizabeth

The first forks were introduced into England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth, with whom they did not find favor. The first specimens brought to her the next week in two black and unworthy her attention.

Gertrude Ederle Welcomed Home

Conqueror of English Channel Is Given Royal Reception by New Yorkers—Thousands Cheer Her.

New York, Aug. 27 (AP).—Trials of the Channel came home today. The name of Gertrude Ederle, young daughter of an Amsterdam avenue butcher, was hailed by the sirens of harbor craft as the city tug Nacorn took her from the Berengaria at Quarantine and led a triumphal procession up the bay. It was cheered by thousands of her fellow townsmen massed about the battery to see her land. It reverberated through the crowds that lined Broadway to City Hall.

The conqueror of the English Channel was back from accomplishing a feat never before achieved by woman, and from doing it better than any man had ever done it, and New York took her to its heart.

A queen in the realm of sport, the swimmer was a truer queen today than she sat on a throne or wore a jeweled crown and all New Yorkers were her subjects.

After the clamorous journey up Broadway, with whistles, screaming and horns sounding and ticker tape spiraling from skyscraper windows above, Miss Ederle was received by Mayor Walker who presented her with a scroll praising her deed.

It was inscribed to "Miss Gertrude Ederle, conqueror of the English Channel." It linked her name with that of Betsy Ross and all other American women who have "added to the glory of our nation," and it concluded: "And so our hearts go out to you for the indomitable courage, the skillful grace, the tremendous athletic prowess which enabled you to be the first girl in the world to swim the English Channel."

Workers in offices of the financial district who have heard the popular reception given to countless visitors and returning Americans, expressed the opinion that Miss Ederle was received more tumultuously than any who have gone before.

Gains Reported By Presbyterians

Philadelphia, Aug. 27 (AP).—Gains in evangelism, in membership and in gifts to benevolences of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America during the last year are recorded in the annual statistical report made public today.

The records show the communicant membership totals 1,909,111, a net increase of 35,325.

Miss Cannon Will Try Channel Again

Boulogne, France, Aug. 27 (AP).—Miss Lillian Cannon of Baltimore today decided to make another attempt to swim the English Channel. She announced that she would enter the water here at 11 o'clock tonight if the wind and tide are favorable. Helmy, the giant Egyptian planned also to start on his seventh essay at the channel crossing.

GOOD TEMPLARS CLOSE THEIR ANNUAL CONVENTION

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP).—Selection of Syracuse as the next convention city and election of officers, completed the work of the annual convention of the New York State Grand Lodge, International Order of Good Templars, last night. William C. Band, of New York, was elected grand chief templar. Other officers elected were: Grand vice-councilor, William F. Stewart, Fulton; grand vice-templar, Mrs. Elizabeth Stokes, Niagara Falls; superintendent juvenile work, Miss Helen Vico, New York; secretary, Mrs. Minnie Verow, Syracuse; treasurer, Edward S. Dean, Batavia; D. F. C. T., M. Leming, Mt. Waterson; grand chaplain, Mrs. Evelyn Howard, Fulton; P. G. C. T. Gordon S. Payne, Medina; financial committee, Ben D. Wright, Lockport; Emilie Bohlen, Fort Hunter; Harry E. Williams, Kendall; Theodore Druse, Woodhaven, L. I.

SHORTAGE OF 20,000 MEN FOR GRAIN HARVESTING

Ottawa, Aug. 27 (AP).—There will be a probable shortage of 20,000 men needed to harvest the grain crops of the three prairie provinces and the situation is serious, said R. A. Rigg, of the Canadian department of labor today. Mr. Rigg said that he had received telegrams from the west imploring the urgency of getting men to save the crops and he added that British Columbia and the Eastern Provinces had not sent half the number that was needed. In a final effort to get more men from the east, another series of trains will be run.

WATER BOARD DEFERRED ACTION ON NEW RESERVOIR

The board of water commissioners held a special meeting Thursday afternoon at the city hall but deferred action in awarding the contract for the construction of the equalizing reservoir and pipe line on the Sawkill road until the September meeting. Another brothers of Orange, N. J., with a bid of $12,371, were the low bidder when the board opened bids on Monday.

Longer Skirts on Program for Fall

Garment to Be Well Below Knee; Drapes, Panels Below Hemline.

Now that every woman has overhauled her wardrobe and found out that all the short dresses she wore last summer are at least a generous hem longer than the present mode, it is time to think about the fall skirt length. Truth to tell, writes a fashion correspondent in the Kansas City Star, one really is surprised to find a dress of last year's vintage and find it ridiculously long.

All this brings one to the truth of the matter: the mode includes the long skirt of the period frock, the uneven skirt length shorter in the front than in the back, and the really short skirt; in fact, a skirt must be short to keep its identity in this day of many skirt lengths.

With fashion's love of change, the new skirt length is predicted well below the knee; drapes and panels fall below the hemline, simulating a longer skirt, thereby gracefully gliding from the shorter to the longer skirt without a marked change from season to season. As the straw blow, the descent of the hemline will be as gradual as its ascent. While skirts will remain in the category as "short" and indeed they will still be that even if the mode fulfills its prediction and lengthens them to four to six inches below the knee.

Paris has spoken its favor in behalf of more for midseason and fall frocks. Every effort is being made to convince womanhood that the new mode has all the loveliness of the old-time fabric, but none of its stiffness. How can this be? Seeing is believing, and certainly the samples of this 1926 mode from Paris are more pliable than the mode of other days. It comes in lovely shades, to be sure. The chanel reds, claret, burgundy, garnet and antique ruby, mauve, blue fox, blue, castor and navy and black are in keeping with the fall color card. Whether a black mode can be lifted from the classification of "an elderly lady's dress" remains a problem for those who sell moire to wrestle with for the next few weeks.

An attractive evening gown is of pale green georgette with a bolero-effect blouse trimmed with rhinestones and iridescent beads. The skirt is billowy and is featured by irregular folds.

Many Capes Hip Length; Popular Summer Fashion

There are almost as many varieties of capes this year as there are flowers. Nearly every woman wants one for morning wear, for motor, for afternoon costume and for traveling, to say nothing of the belted and belted capes for evening wear. Sometimes the cape is a mere appendage on a tailored suit, dress or coat. The sleeves sometimes give a cape effect but the "real" cape is usually of three-quarters or full length. The short hip length is chosen frequently by those not possessed of slenderness.

Vagabond Hat Favored; It Sticks on the Head

The vagabond hat outstrips all others for sheer popularity among those who go in for the outdoor life. It sticks on the head. It can be crumpled into any conceivable or imaginable shape. It shades the eyes and, added to all this, it has a tremendous air of mysteriousness about it. One can find them in all colors to match the brightest and sportiest clothes or those of more sober tones. But perhaps the best looking of all are those in the tan, brown and beige shades. At any rate, these are the best liked among the leaders in the smart younger set.

Says That Mars Is "Ultra Arid"

Pasadena, Cal., Aug. 27 (AP).—Even a camel would shun Mars if what Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of the Mount Wilson Observatory here, says about the planet is true.

If any form of life exists on our celestial neighbor, it is probably only the lowest form of plants, such as moss and lichen for "ultra arid" conditions prevail throughout the planet, says Dr. Adams in a report to the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

KINGSTON, N. Y., AUG. 27, 1926.

ADOPTING OUR METHODS

King Albert, now financial dictator of Belgium, urgently invites holders of six billion francs of national floating debt, in the form of treasury bonds, to exchange them for preferred stock in a corporation formed to take over the state railways.

France, in like manner, proposes to transfer the business and assets of the national tobacco monopoly to a private corporation which will issue bonds to pay half the outstanding national defense bonds.

In the United States, more than 2,000 public utilities have been transferred from public ownership to private control, and in practically every instance, have been changed from money losers and tax liabilities into money makers and tax payers.

American railroads, under private management, pay $1,000,000 a day in taxes in addition to earning reasonable dividends. These same railroads, under 20 months of federal control during the World War, cost the taxpayers $1,600,000,000 to cover deficits of federal operation.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company now has over $50,000,000 stockholders, $5,000 of whom are employees of the company or its associated companies. No stockholder owns more than two per cent of all the stock. During 1925, the Bell Telephone System paid state, municipal and federal taxes amounting to $58,000,000, an increase of 120 per cent over 1910.

Our public utilities are owned and controlled by over 2,000,000 stockholders, and collectively pay taxes around $150,000,000 a year. There is hope for Belgium and France if they will get their industries out of politics, and, under private enterprise, allow them to operate on a money making and tax paying basis, rather than on the present paternalistic tax consuming plan which impoverishes the nation.

THE FARMING BUSINESS.

Of necessity, the farmer is the greatest business speculator in the United States. Adverse weather conditions, insects and numerous pests may ruin crop prospects almost in a day. As the situation is becoming more fully appreciated, farmers are learning the value of organizing, and otherwise safeguarding their financial future. In 1925, over $2,500,000,000 worth of sales, including live stock, were handled through farmers' organizations. This was almost one-quarter of the total business of the industry.

The speculative nature of farming has caused food prices to rise at a rate in excess of those of general commodities, but as agriculture becomes better organized, foodstuffs may be expected to become more stabilized, because large unsold surpluses may be conserved to meet demand.

In the solving of marketing problems, agriculture is conspicuously weak in comparison with other industries. It is only through solution of these problems that stabilization of agricultural income will be made possible.

As each year passes, the farmer is strengthening his position, and eventually the element of speculation will in a large measure be removed from the industry. This time will be hastened by western farmers following the example of the sane and successful eastern farmers who are farmers and business men first and all the time, solving their own problems and wasting neither time nor energy in seeking to shoulder their burdens over on the government.

The oil industry goes into the second half of the year in a weaker position than in any recent similar period with continuing decline in existing stocks of crude oil and reduced production. Little or no increase in crude oil production and firm gasoline market without runaway price characterizing the situation. Gasoline consumption has been more than 1,000,000,000 gallons a month, since April. Last year, only two peak months exceeded this figure. Overproduction of crude oil has been changed into reduced production and absorbed by increased consumption. Nationally, the oil industry is in a strong position. All of which means that oil production along sound and conservative lines will be encouraged, and the American people assured of an abundant supply at fair prices.

The Key to London, a monthly published in the city named for the information of American tourists, has been denied admission by the Custom House in New York because it carries an advertisement of a cherry brandy obtainable in England. If this ruling is sustained, consistency will demand that most foreign magazines and newspapers be barred out.

That Body of Yours

EXAMINING YOUR DIGESTIVE JUICES.

I talk about the digestive tract frequently because as a matter of fact if you are eating the proper food, in the proper quantities, at the proper times, and also get regular exercise, there really isn't much more to do to keep that body of yours in perfect condition. And so when we read of how our research men are studying the passage of the food throughout the intestinal canal, how the juices are poured out upon it, in what quantities and the quality or strength of each juice, we must all be vitally interested.

You have read perhaps of how the digestion of food in the stomach was studied by an army surgeon who had a patient with a hole in the stomach which communicated with the outside of the body.

And now our research men are able to study the action of those two important juices, the pancreatic juice and the bile, in a very simple manner.

As you know after the food has been in the stomach two to four hours, and the meat, eggs, and similar foods are made fit to be absorbed into the blood, they, together with the starches and fats, that is vegetables and breads, butter and milk, are pushed by the muscles of the stomach walls through a small opening into the small intestine. On arriving there the pancreatic juice from the pancreas and the bile from the liver are immediately poured over them through a common duct, which enters the intestine on an angle from above. Now just how much pancreatic juice and how much bile is being poured out, and the quality or richness of these two juices, is what the research man wants to learn. Accordingly, on an empty stomach, preferably in the morning, the tip of a long slender rubber tube is passed down the throat to stomach, and past the stomach right into the small intestine for a distance of four inches past the stomach. The tube is placed in this position by watching it under the fluoroscope—that is the X-ray. Through the tube about three ounces of a liquid food is given, and after five minutes, this food with its mixture of pancreatic juice and bile, is drawn up through the tube by suction.

Thus any deficiency in these juices or where there is an overabundance of one and an insufficient quantity of the other will be noted and appropriate treatment can be given. This is very interesting and instructive, but for most folks it is of course unnecessary, if they use good judgment in eating.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION HELPS

CASE OF BLOOD POISONING.

Miss Mary E. Clare of No. 23 West Pierpont street is recovering from an attack of blood poisoning at Atlantic city, where she had gone to spend her vacation. Miss Clare had a pimple on her chin which she pricked and blood poisoning developed. Her condition was so serious that several days ago her brother, Alderman Leo Clare, of the Eleventh ward, was called to Atlantic city and some of his blood was transfused to his sister's veins with such success that her condition is reported as being somewhat improved.

Brilliant Victory Gained by Colonel Bradstreet at Fort Frontenac, August 27, 1758.

The English expedition against Fort Ticonderoga in July, 1753, resulted in the death of Lord Howe, the idol of his soldiers, and the terrible rout of the British army, in which the cowardly General Abercrombie led a precipitous retreat back to Lake George and then to Albany.

Colonel John Bradstreet, a brave English officer, burning with indignation because of the shameful defeat urged upon a council of war, held in the camp at Fort William Henry at the head of Lake George, the importance of capturing Fort Frontenac at the foot of Lake Ontario. Bradstreet offered to lead an expedition against the fortress.

After much hesitation General Abercrombie commissioned Bradstreet to undertake the enterprise with three thousand men. The brave colonel marched with these troops to Albany, where he was joined by Philip Schuyler, and they hastened up the Mohawk Valley crossed the portage to Oneida Lake, embarked at Oswego and sailed down Lake Ontario.

Bradstreet and Schuyler knew the route for it was the former who had been sent by General Shirley, in 1755, to provision the garrison at Oswego, when with two hundred provincial troops and a detail of boatmen, he crossed the wilderness from Albany by way of the Mohawk River, Wood Creek, Oneida Lake and the Oswego River, and placed in the fort provisions for 5,000 troops for six months. Captain Philip Schuyler accompanied him as chief commissary. The little army returned after several attacks by the French, whom Bradstreet defeated.

On the expedition for the capture of Frontenac, Schuyler and three hundred bateaux-men had reached Oswego earlier than the main body under Bradstreet, and prepared vessels which were used to cross the lake with men, cannons and stores. The expedition carried eight pieces of cannon and two mortars. It landed near Fort Frontenac on the evening of August 25, 1758, constructed batteries, and opened them upon the fort at short range two days afterwards.

The French were taken completely by surprise. The fort mounted sixty cannons, but the garrison was very small. The commander sent to Montreal for aid, but before it could reach him, and the works being untenable, he was compelled to surrender the fort and all its dependencies, August 27.

Bradstreet received immense spoils, particularly in stores destined for the garrison at Fort Duquesne. The Indians having deserted the French on the approach of the English there were only one hundred and ten prisoners. But among the spoils were sixty cannons, sixteen mortars, and a large quantity of small arm provisions, military stores, and nine armed vessels carrying eight to eighteen guns each.

Fort Frontenac, which was a strong structure, was laid in ruins. In twenty-four days Bradstreet was back at the Oneida portage, having lost but five men by the enemy, though nearly five hundred of his detachment, principally from New York, died of an epidemic of dysentery.

On this return march Bradstreet assisted in building Fort Stanwix, in the Mohawk Valley, on the present site of Rome, Oneida county.

The capture of Fort Frontenac, the result of this brilliant expedition, was one of the most important events of the war. It facilitated the fall of Fort Duquesne, which was captured by General John Forbes, November 25, following, discouraged the French, gave joy to the English, and reflected much honor on the previously underrated provincials.

The fall of Frontenac raised a cry for peace throughout Canada, the resources of which were almost exhausted. "I am not discouraged," wrote Moncalm, in evident disappointment, "nor are my troops. We are resolved to find our graves under the ruins of the colony."

The success at Frontenac and that of Forbes at Fort Duquesne closed the campaign of 1758 favorably to Great Britain, and Pitt made vast preparations for the campaign of the next year. General Forbes changed the name of Fort Duquesne to Fort Pitt, now Pittsburgh.

The attachment of some of the Indian allies of the French had now been much weakened, and at a great council held at Easton, Pennsylvania, in October, 1758, six tribes, in addition to those of the Six Nations, made treaties of friendship and neutrality with the English.

Colonel Bradstreet subsequently served under General Amherst at Ticonderoga, and became a major general Mar. 23, 1772. During the Pontiac War he commanded an expedition and negotiated a treaty. He died in New York city September 25, 1774.

Labor Wants Dry Law Modification

New York Federation of Labor Adopted Resolution Calling for Modification to Permit Sale and Manufacture of Light Wines and Beers.—Say Congress Exceeded Power.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP).—Modification of the Volstead Law to permit sale of beer and wine was favored in a resolution adopted at the closing session of the New York State Federation of Labor convention here Thursday. The resolution declared that the Eighteenth Amendment banned only intoxicating liquors and that congress in including in the Volstead Act prohibition of wine and beer, exceeded its authority under the amendment.

Another resolution adopted declared for rigid enforcement of the eight-hour day and prevailing wage rate law.

Investigation of alleged profiteering was urged by the convention, asking that the joint legislative commission engaged in an industrial survey in the state, look into the profits of industrial and commercial concerns.

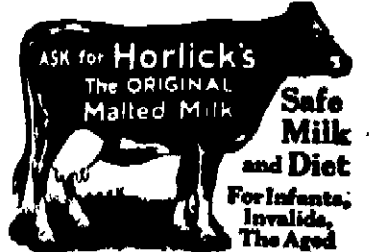

The slate, headed by John Sullivan, New York, as president, selected at a caucus, was elected.

Referee John J. Burns made the following awards on Thursday to claimants for compensation for injuries or illness growing out of their employment as provided by the employer's liability law. The hearings were held at the supervisors' room in the court house:

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MERRY-GO-ROUND

It was late at night and the merry-go-round was still. Not even the sign of a little movement was the merry-go-round making.

Not the slightest scrap of a tune or squeak came from it.

It was quite, quite still.

It had been fair day and the merry-go-round had been busy.

So many riders had the merry-go-round had that day—more than almost ever before.

Of course it had been a beautiful day and it was the second day of the fair and the second day was always the best.

They were getting things arranged the first day and the third day they commenced to take things away. Of course the merry-go-round stayed all the three days, but the second was the very best of all.

Oh, how the merry-go-round had gone around that day! It had sung its songs, or rather it had played its music and its same round of tunes had seemed just as jolly and gay and as much fun at the end of the day as at the beginning.

Now the merry-go-round was still, quite still.

And then it seemed to stretch itself just a little and there seemed to be a whispering.

"Oh," said the merry-go-round, "that was a good rest. Well, I needed it."

"Oh, we needed that rest," said a pair of fine black horses on the merry-go-round.

"We were in such demand. How the children did rush to climb upon us. And we went around and around and around, our heads moving and our bodies moving just so much and so."

more, and our legs never on the board at all, but in the air a little, always above the ground, always curved just so.

"But we're used to it. It doesn't tire us. The children held our reins and had such a good time and they would tell us to get-up and to get-up and to whoa."

"We had a splendid day."

"So did we," said a pair of gray horses. "We never had more fun. Even though we had pop-corn and ice cream cones dripping and dropping over us we didn't mind."

"In fact we enjoyed it."

"Well, we didn't have a pair of hands that weren't sticky the whole day," said a pair of white horses, "but we didn't mind."

"We had a good day, too. This rest has refreshed us. We'll be all ready for a busy day tomorrow."

"It may not be quite as busy as this one was but let us hope it will be a busy day."

"Let us hope so," the merry-go-round said.

"Let us hope so," the black horses said.

"Let us hope so," the gray horses said.

"We," said the chairs, "are not rushed for in the same way that the horses are. We are a little quieter in our ways."

"They don't mount on our backs. They sit all in us. But there were plenty of people sitting in us today."

"We had some very, very little children, too, clutching at our sides."

"It was great fun!"

And all the horses and all the chairs talked of the day that had been. But they had had a good rest and they were ready for the next day.

There was nothing the merry-go-round liked better than to go round and round.

The merry-go-round never got dizzy. Getting dizzy was something the merry-go-round could not understand at all.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DIVISION TO MEET IN SCHENECTADY.

The famed Twenty-seventh division, the New York National Guard, which carried a niche in history with the smashing of the Hindenburg line in the fall of 1918, will have its annual meeting in Schenectady on the anniversary of the battle, September 25 and 26. It was announced Tuesday by Brigadier General Ransom H. Gillett, president of the organization. It is expected that more than 1,500 will attend the gathering, and the plans for the affair include a huge street parade. Schenectady was to have been the host city, but plans were changed at the last minute. A registration of at least 2,000 veterans is expected, while 2,000 visitors and relatives will accompany them. It is estimated.

Members of the old Tenth New York Infantry were members of the Twenty-seventh Division while the division was in training at Spartanburg before the latter went overseas, but many of the drafted men served overseas with the division.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Proctor and children of Long Island spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Quirk.

Anniversary of First Oil Gusher

Sixty-seven Years Since First Artisan Oil Well Brought Petroleum to Surface of Earth in Large Quantities.

Titusville, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP).—Sixty-seven years ago today the first artesian oil well in the world was brought in between here and Oil City by the late Col. E. L. Drake.

Although negligible quantities of oil had been found in various parts of the world prior to the time Drake struck petroleum at a depth of 69 1/4 feet, his achievement marked the birth of the gigantic industry and its subsequent products.

Before Drake's discovery, petroleum was obtained by skimming from the surface of pools of water after it had seeped through the earth. The oil secured was used principally for medicinal purposes and the Indians utilized it in mixing war paint.

Derrick sprang up like mushrooms about his well soon after his experiment proved successful. New producing territory was opened in other areas later and today wells may be found in virtually every quarter of the globe. Original fields in this territory still are producing oil, but only in small quantities.

Drake was not widely known. However, the late Henry H. Rodgers, of the Standard Oil Company, did much to perpetuate the first producer's memory by erecting a $100,000 monument in the cemetery here where Drake's body is interred. The Drake Memorial Association was formed in 1913 with a membership of many prominent oil men in the United States to preserve the colonel's memory.

Drake died a poor man living on a pension granted by the state of Pennsylvania and without realizing the importance of his discovery.

LAST NIGHT on THE RADIO

Trifling manifestations of static interfered little but several convocations of bloopers raised ructions last night. At 7 o'clock WJZ was buried in blooming and a great part of the band concert later was spoiled by air hogs whose aim seems to be to make a radio set roar and howl.

WODA, Paterson, N. J., is the air claim jumper sending on or about 555 meters.

The Royal Hour and the Fireside Boys, at WJZ were the best of the evening. The Fireside Boys brought back old memories with "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" and "Over the Garden Wall."

There was good DX reception from WHT, WHAS, WWJ, WGBD, WCK, WOC and several other stations.

KDKA spread over a dozen numbers and had a finish fight with WPO, finishing the Atlantic City station.

If only the bloopers would reform the joys of the air would be increased tremendously. Reform is such a simple thing. All there is to it is, "Don't be an air hog."

Pavement of Rubber

Tests on rubber block pavement, laid one and one-half years ago at the entrance to City hospital in Boston have shown marked advantages. In addition to having worn but little during the interval, the pavement has the advantage that snow and ice do not collect on it in winter as on other types of pavement, thus doing away with slipperiness. The blocks are also almost noiseless and vibrationless.

These rubber paving blocks are an invention of R. F. Herrick, a consulting engineer of Boston. They are made largely of reclaimed rubber. Those used in the present test are 12 by 6 inches in area and 2 inches thick, and are laid in plastic sand and cement directly on the street foundation. Their edges were given a coat of asphalt paint immediately before laying.

Dog First Human Pet

There has been considerable debate as to just where the domesticated dog came from, and some naturalists deny he was directly brought down from the wolf, but they all seem to agree that he was the first wild animal brought to a satisfactory state of domestication. Certain it seems the dog was the most responsive to domestication efforts of all the animals that were sought for human pets in early days.

Parcel Post

Parcels have been carried by the Post Office department since its establishment. Prior to 1912 the limit of weight was four pounds. The parcel post law was enacted August 24, 1912, and this act provided for the extension of limits of weights of parcels and provided rates. It also contained provisions for the establishment of C. O. D. and insured services.

Catholic Aristocracy

"Catholic aristocracy" is the name given to persons who, lacking in real culture, make a vulgar display of recently acquired wealth. It was formerly applied to families who were supposed to have become rich from the fortunes of Massachusetts, a state noted for its catholic. The "catholic" name in the statehouse at Boston.

12 POUND SLUDGE TO BREAK EGGSHELLS

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP).—A twelve-pound sledge hammer is being put to a new use at the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University here. Operated by an electric-driven machine, the hammer has been made part of a test to measure the breaking strength of hens' eggshells.

The particular hammer which is attracting interest here now is to be used at the state fair in Syracuse next week as a part of the agricultural college's exhibit of eggs and their qualities. Eggs from 24 different breeds, varieties and classes will comprise the display, while the hammer test for strength of the shells will be made to determine the selection of breeding stock.

Officials of the poultry department at the college declare that the strength of the shells depends on the breed and feeding of the hens, and the machine will show graphically the comparisons between the various classes.

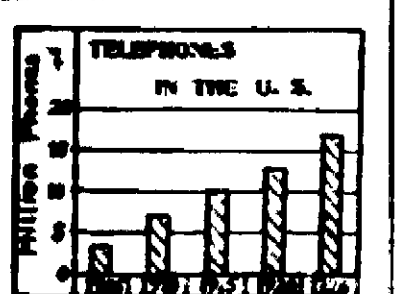

NEW MODEL CHRYSLER A LOW GAS CONSUMER

Better riding comfort, greater roominess, a full sized car in which modern space engineering has been surprisingly utilized, easier handling, speed with comfort up to the car's maximum, the economy of 25 miles per gallon of gasoline—these and other features, notably the apparent great value built into the car, are expected by the Chrysler Corporation to make the new Chrysler "50" it is announcing an immediate outstanding success in the small-car field.

The car is on display in all the larger cities of the country starting August 21, and all Chrysler dealers are being sampled as rapidly as output permits. Production for Canada and overseas markets is under way. There are orders for more than 20,000 cars on hand at the factory.

JUMP IN TELEPHONES USED.

Boston Park, Mass., Aug. 27.—"The American Telephone & Telegraph Co." says the Wall Street Journal in a comment the other day in New York "can congratulate itself not only because it was able to handle with such success its new stock issue without underwriting, but on the wonderful confidence its huge army of nearly 400,000 shareholders have in its future." The growth in the use of the telephone in this country has been little short of marvelous.

Only going as far back as 1905 we find less than 1 million telephones in the U. S. as compared with practically 17 million telephones the first of this year. The stockholder any company could wish for in the mass of women who use the products more than a day such a person is usually more understanding. The American Telephone & Telegraph Corp. has undoubtedly been the most successful in the world in the opinion expressed above.

Streams of water from the creek later in the afternoon the fire department gave a demonstration of the chemicals used in extinguishing fires when water was not available.

A huge pit had been dug in which were poured several barrels of gasoline to which a match was touched. Immediately dense heavy clouds of smoke drifted over the fair grounds followed by fiery flames that mounted skyward.

Then a stream of chemicals was turned on the blaze and in a very few minutes the fire was extinguished.

The Thrilling Dive

Scattered in between the horse racing were the free acts, and this year they were exceptionally good. The feature act was the dive from an 86 foot ladder into a tank filled with four and a half feet of water by Captain Simmons, a one-legged and one-armed diving champion. After his dive girls passed through the crowd with cigar boxes seeking contributions which are to pay for his schooling as he does not expect to make a living all his life by diving off a ladder.

The acrobatic act by the two Elliotts was also good, and it was announced that during the evening there would be another display of fireworks followed by a fiery dive from the ladder by the diver who would set his clothing on fire and then dive into the tank.

The tug of war staged by Hebrew boarders from one of the Jewish boarding houses and some of the campers at Greenfield, just outside Ellenville, kept the crowd in good humor.

Plenty of Calves There

The display of calves at the fair this year was exceptionally good both among the exhibits and those who viewed them. All of the fair sex who are spending the summer vacation at Ellenville and vicinity appeared on the fair grounds attired in short pants with bare knees exposed to the rays of the hot sun. Pants seemed to predominate over knickerbockers this year at the fair, among the fair sex.

State Troopers Cleared Track

This year all of the midway attractions are staged around the big exhibit hall on the upper end of the grounds. In former years the midway pitched its tents in the center of the race track, but the officials of the fair have changed the arrangement so as to prevent accidents in crossing the race track. From the grandstand one could walk in safety to the other end of the grounds protected from the race track by a fence.

The State Troopers at the fair this year maintained order and kept the race track clear for the horses and drivers.

Four Races on Program. As usual the horse racing attracted the most attention and four races were billed. Thursday afternoon, and all were closely contested and good time made.

The First Race

The first race was the 2:22 trot or pace for a purse of $300 with six starters. It required four heats to decide the winner the race being won by Dottie Guy, an added starter. Helen J., another added starter in this race won second money and

At the close of the race Starter Billy Brush of Newburgh announced that Fox Frisco was now owned by Homer Kuhlmann of Ellenville. In this race The Moko Lady, a three year old, was entered and it was stated this was her third race. She finished fourth in all three heats.

The Special Race

Four horses were entered in the special race which was run off in two heats. The horses were Roby Dillon driven and owned by S. Gushner of Napanoch; Copper Cliff owned and driven by B. T. Clark of Woodbourne; The Pyramid, entered by John McDowell & Son of Ellenville, and Mamie Direct, entered by J. W. Coughlin of Ellenville.

Cushner's horse Roby Dillon got away from the pole last in the first heat, and surprised every one by coming in under the wire first, but was disqualified because Roby was inclined to break and ran part of the distance instead of pacing or trotting. As a runner Roby was a better pacer, for when he paced he easily overtook the other three horses and passed them. The time for the first heat was announced as 2:23 1/4.

REASONABLE GOOD THINGS

The appropriate sauce to serve with fish, fowl, or meat, is very important. One or two on hand to serve with the various dishes will add variety.

Flemish Sauce (for Beef or Veal).—Cook one cupful of finely-cut carrot until tender; drain and reserve one-fourth cupful of the carrot water. Melt two table-spoonfuls of butter, add two of flour. When well-blended add the carrot, one tablespoonful of minced pickle, one-half teaspoonful of finely-minced parsley, one table-spoonful of grated horseradish, and salt and pepper to taste. Season with a dash of Worcestershire sauce.

Shrimp Sauce (for Fish).—Measure one-third of a cupful of butter and melt half of it; add three table-spoonfuls of flour and cook until smooth and well-blended; then add one pint of boiling water and cook until slightly thickened; when smooth add the remainder of the butter and stir until all is absorbed. Add one cupful of shrimps, two table-spoonfuls of lemon juice, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of cayenne. Just before taking from the fire add a table-spoonful of kitchen bouquet.

Orange Whip.—Soak two table-spoonfuls of gelatin in one-half cupful of water for five minutes, add one cupful of boiling water, one-half cupful of sugar, and stir until all is dissolved. Add one and three-fourths cupfuls of orange juice, one-fourth cupful of lemon juice, strain and cool when it begins to thicken, then beat with foam; fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and heap lightly in orange shells placed in sherbet glasses. Garnish with a carefully peeled section of orange.

Peach Fritters.—Mix and sift one cupful of flour, two table-spoonfuls of baking powder, three table-spoonfuls of sugar, and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Add gradually one-third of a cupful of milk, one well-beaten egg and three peaches sliced in small pieces. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat and drain on brown paper. Roll in sugar and serve.

The Newest Hats Are a Bit Sensational, and There is Not Only a Strong Harlequin Note Evoked, But There May Be a Revival of Veils as Well.

French milliners at the moment are indulging in a sort of African orgy, a barbaric note having crept into all that has to do with coiffure and chapeau. At the beginning of each season, milliners are inclined,

TWO FRENCH FALL HATS.

In Two Tones of Dark Brown Hatters' Plush is Upper Model from Marguerite et Leonie, With a Flare to the Creased Drape, Which Suggests the Line of the Russian Coronet.

A Feather Trim is Imitated in the Other Type. The Black Hatters' Plush Edged with Narrow Gilt Braid Is Cut to Resemble Curled Coq Feathers Cleverly Tucked Into the Front Drape.

perhaps more than dressmakers, to go to extremes.

Just now the crown top shows a tendency to topple backward, and the side line of a hat is greatly elongated, and slightly raised, while the hat fits the head with the closeness of a vise. Naturally such hats must be draped from flexible stuffs—grograin ribbon, for instance; velvet, of course, moire, if you like; and, one feels inclined to say, always felt.

The large hat seems to be more or less an American institution. It is natural that, with summer on the wane, brims should diminish in both size and importance. The new drapes create something quite distinctive, something rather more mature in effect than formerly.

There is a half-hearted effort to introduce novelty trimmings, but for the most part the drapes supplies sufficient interest, with perhaps a pin added. Some hats, however, introduce pheasant in banded or pasted effect, while there must also be acknowledged a tendency to use two materials and even two colors, an idea which is carried out consistently throughout autumn wardrobes.

One of the most revolutionary features reported is the appearance of a tiny nose veil. This an idea capable of further development and quite due to be revived. One hesitates to hazard even a guess as to how long it has been since fashion decreed that a veil should be worn. (Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service, New York.)

ADIRONDACK RESIDENTS COMPLAIN OF TOURISTS

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Aug. 27 (P).—Carelessness and discourtesy on the part of many automobile tourists passing through the Adirondack mountains has brought in a greater volume of complaint than ever during the past summer from mountain residents.

As the end of the tourist season approaches, there is considerable talk among permanent residents of the district of taking drastic steps another year to check damage to their property, the total of which is estimated to run up to thousands of dollars during the season. Some of the tourists are obviously careless, the mountains felt say, but against others they charge intentional wrongdoings.

Among the reports which have filtered in to this village so far this summer have been stories of gardens leveled, fences broken down and lawns trampled, small trees and shrubs stolen, large trees on posted roads felled for fuel, cows killed, vegetables stolen and numerous other acts of vandalism.

As a result of such conduct, many mountain residents who a few years ago welcomed the flow of tourists traffic on the improved roads, this year have papered their property with "No Trespassing" signs and in some cases have had verbal encounters with the invaders.

The abundance of signs, however, has also led the tourists to complain, and many stories have reached here of motorists unable to find a shady bit of roadside land for brilliant with warning signs. The only land remaining, these people declare, is to be found in state parks and camp sites, but even these, they have found, are not always kept in the best condition by their users.

and Commercial

New York, Aug. 27 (AP).—Stock prices made further recovery in today's market, which was featured by a brisk demand for the dividend paying railroad shares. Accumulative evidence of business prosperity revealed in the weekly reviews of various lines of industry and the fact that the first 40 class one railroads to report their earnings, showed an average gain of nearly 30 per cent above the corresponding month last year, helped to create bullish enthusiasm.

Athlison was the leader in the rail group, crossing 151 to the highest price on record for an overnight gain of 4 points. Steady accumulation of the northwestern carriers was in speculative expectation of increased dividend disbursements, by roads in that territory before the end of the year.

The demand for the industrial broad-based as public participation increased, tobacco giving an impressive demonstration of group strength with several issues in that group mounting to new peak prices for the year. Union Tank Car was bid up over 5 points to a new top and Warner Brothers Pictures, which has been the feature of recent markets, was selling 5 points above yesterday's final quotation by early afternoon.

Retention of the 5 per cent call money rate for loans over the week-end, and the cropping out of a few soft spots, failed to check the general upward movement. The weekly statement of the Federal Reserve Bank, showing a moderate increase in the local reserve ratio and a substantial drop in rediscunts, was regarded as a favorable stock market factor.

The closing was firm. A sudden demand for the oil shares sprang up in the final hour with General Asphalt common and preferred, Marland, Standard Oil of California, Pan American B., Atlantic Refining and a few others, moving up 1 to 2 points. The usual week-end profit taking in other quarters was well absorbed. Total sales approximated 1,400,000 shares.

Johnston of California scored the initial victory of the fifth day's play in Newport's invitation tennis tournament, pairing with Dr. George King in the doubles to defeat Malcolm Hill and Henry Johnson of Waban, Mass., 6-3, 4-6, 6-2. Johnston dominated the rallies with his terrific forehand clouts and his sharp and decisive volleying. The victory advanced the winning team to the quarter finals.

Hopeful Husband

Senator Edge said at an Atlantic City dinner party: "There's hope for a husband if he's modest. A man in a bathing suit on the beach introduced me to his wife one day. Then, after she had gone into the water, he praised her warmly and said: "Our romance began in a most poetical way. Clara saved me from drowning. She's a magnificent swimmer, you know." "He went into the water himself and splashed about a bit." "You don't go out very far," I said, when he came back and joined me again. "No," said he. "She might've save me now."

Police Signal Bombs

Bomb hurlers, "pill boxes" and radio signal system have now become the commonplace of the police force in Memphis, Tenn. An inner and outer protective belt have been formed in the city, and six miniature brick stations resembling the "pill boxes" of the war are established in each belt. Each station is equipped with a radio receiving set, searchlight, bomb hurling signal device and two telephones. If notice reaches the station during daylight hours that a burglar is operating in the neighborhood the policeman in the pill box sets off the bomb hurling device, and a series of aerial explosions warns the men motoring over their territory.

Banana Oil

Robert Henri, the portrait painter, said at a luncheon at Dark Harbor: "Every woman is beautiful now. What hair, what eyes, what complexion! We men live in a paradise." "A lady went to the studio of a friend of mine to have her portrait painted. My friend said to her: "Do you know, I'm in despair. I have no colors on my palette that are brilliant enough and delicate enough to match your exquisite complexion." The lady laughed. "In that case," she said, "just make the outline sketch today and when I come tomorrow I'll bring some of my own colors for you."

To Build Big Dam

A new dam 12 feet higher than the famous one bearing the name of the late President Roosevelt is about to rise in the Colorado river and close a narrow gorge to back up water for the double purpose of irrigation and power generation. It is the Morse Dam power dam, 17 miles below Roosevelt, Ariz. The structure will be 312 feet high. Red rock, 34 feet below the water level, has been chosen for the dam foundation. A series of holes was bored 34 feet deeper and cement injected under high pressure so as to fill any possible fissures and thus prevent leaks in the future. The dam proper will begin to rise at once.

Bulgaria Sends Very Meek Reply

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 27 (AP).—The Bulgarian reply to the collective note of the Little Entente was delivered today. It is written in the most conciliatory terms and expressed the Sofia government's determination to safeguard its place with its neighbors. Bulgaria says she will not appeal to the League of Nations but is ready to abide by the league's decision if that body is prepared to take over the responsibility of the settlement of the entire Bulgarian problem.

This reply was an answer to the collective note of Jugo Slavia, Greece and Rumania asking Bulgaria to suppress revolutionary organizations and to prevent border raiding.

Diver at Work In Rondout Creek

While the big mud dredger was busy this week dredging out where the sewer empties into the Rondout creek at the foot of Ravine street it became entangled in the four inch water main that supplies the Island Dock shipyard with city water. One entire length of the water main was broken by the dredger.

The matter was reported to Superintendent W. Scott Van Keuren of the board of public works, who engaged Eugene Carle, a local diver, to make repairs to the water main. Carle in his work is using a regulating diving costume.

Kimball, meteorologist of the United States Weather Bureau, today told The Associated Press, that experiments to determine a favorable hop-off date for the proposed New York to Paris flight of Captain Rene Fonck will lead to the commercial use of radioed maritime weather maps by all marines. As a part of the cooperation of many agencies interested in furthering the trans-Atlantic flight of the S-35, the Radio Corporation of America and the Independent Wireless Corporation since August 10th have been relaying twice daily reports from ships at various positions on the Atlantic. At least twenty English and American ships are sending reports.

NATION PAYS BILL FOR FOREST FIRES

Timber Wastage a Matter of Concern to All.

Several thousand men have been battling in the forest fire zone in five states, where a dozen lives have been lost. United States soldiers from Fort Missoula were sent to the fire front that swept 80,000 acres on all sides of Glacier National park outside the Boise National forest 100,000 acres have been fire swept.

Foresters call the situation serious in California, Idaho, Nevada, Montana and Washington, the situation "assumes a more serious aspect than at any time in the last decade," they say. Forest fires seem far away to the bulk of our population, but they mean something to the whole nation.

Twenty-nine million acres were swept by flames in 1924, according to the Forestry Primer published by the American Tree association of Washington. It is estimated it would cost $300,000,000 to reforest this burned-over land and that it would take almost three hundred years to accomplish it at the rate we are now doing it. There is a great lesson in knowing how long it takes Nature to produce this chief essential to man's comfort.

There were ninety-two thousand forest fires in the United States in 1924. This was at the rate of two hundred and fifty every day. A large percentage of these were caused by carelessness of tourists and campers. By automobile millions of people go into the national and state forests in summer. These millions must make the proper handling of fire their first concern, the American Tree association says. The terrific drain on our forest products by fire losses must be cut down much closer to the point where lightning only can be blamed.

You do not get a first hand idea of real heat until you get into the forest fire line where men battle until they drop. Do not leave a glowing spark in that camp fire! Break your match in a second you undo what Nature has labored centuries to accomplish.

Buy Tydol

the only gasoline sold through sealed pumps

THE higher the quality of a gasoline, the greater need there is to protect that quality from substitution.

The Tydol dealers have united in sealing every Tydol pump in this section. For, the sealed pump is the latest step in Tide Water's vigilant system of safeguarding the high quality of Tydol.

The seal on any Tydol pump (you are invited to inspect it) is your visible proof that you get Tydol and nothing but Tydol from a Tydol pump.

Bootleggers defeated by sealed pump

The need for protecting a gasoline until it actually enters the gas tank of your car was never apparent until last fall. Then, New York City became flooded with so-called "bootleg gasoline". This was cheap, third-rate stuff that dishonest distributors pawned off on the public, selling it through pumps which bore the trade-marks of quality gasolines.

Then Tide Water, with the cooperation of Tydol dealers, developed the sealed pump. The effect was immediate. Car owners flooded by thousands to the sealed Tydol pumps. The gasoline bootleggers were defeated. The sealed pump, originated to meet a crisis is now being installed in this section to make certain that inferior gasolines never can be substituted for high-quality Tydol.

The sealed pump now here!

The Tydol dealers in this vicinity have united in sealing all Tydol pumps.
They believe that the high quality of Tydol deserves an added measure of protection. And they want car owners to know beyond any doubt that when they buy Tydol they get Tydol.

If you endorse the step these Tydol dealers have taken to guarantee you better gasoline, show your approval by buying Tydol from them. You'll find a Tydol dealer near your home. Ask him to show you how his Tydol pump is sealed. You'll find that he is proud of the "Seal of Protection". He's a good man for you to do business with.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

The trim Buccaners craft was in the forefront again today in the mad race for honors in the National League, with a four point margin, the measure of league superiority most of this week.

Yesterday the St. Louis Cardinals were proud possessors of that measure of a half a game margin, but that was before the Phillies, hitherto considerably battered by the rest of the league, suddenly came to life and edged out a 3 to 2 victory. When Cincinnati kept on its merry way by trouncing Dazzy Vance and Brooklyn 3 to 1, the Cards found they not only had lost the leadership but must share second place with Cincinnati.

The Pittsburgh nine, spurred to the attack by Paul Waner, slugging outfielder from the coast, slammed the offerings of four New York pitchers to win the start of a three game series 15 to 7. Waner gathered six hits in as many times at bat. "Jug" Handlin' Johnny Morrison, back with the Pirates after a long absence due to illness, saved the day with his re-buff hurling after Lee Meadows fled to the showers in the sixth.

The Cards' loss was particularly likable to them in that Philadelphia could garner but eight hits off Haines while 13 were clattering from the St. Louis bats. Dean kept them well reatored, however.

Pitcher Wertz gave the Boston Braves their only run when he broke Joe Bush's string of 25 scoreless innings with a fluke home run that popped over the centerfield fence. Chicago took the game 3 to 1. Gabby Harnett hit two singles and a double for the Cubs.

The Philadelphia Athletics made came of Rookie Ballou. St. Louis' acquisition from Washington by winning two games from him, although he pitched but 2-3 of the 23 innings necessary to give the Athletics the double win. The first was decided 8 to 6 in 11 innings and the second 4 to 2 in 12. Simmons' seventeenth circuit smash of the season with a man on base contributed the winning margin in the first and his single and steal in the last inning of the second put him in a position to score on Haines' hit for the second triumph.

The Senators likewise took two from Chicago 3 to 1 and 1 to 0. Right in the heart of the fray were Washington's splendid old timers, Walter Johnston and Stanley Coveleskie, and both pitched a winning game. Each allowed Chicago just four hits although Ted Lyons, no-hit no-run star was a puzzle to the Senators up to the final inning of the second tilt.

Cleveland and Boston ran into mud and had to call off their pastime, the only other engagement scheduled in the American during the day.

MISS COLLETT AT SARANAC GOLF LINKS.

Upper Saranac, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Miss Glenna Collett, women's national golf champion, will defend her title as Adirondack Champion on the Saranac Inn Golf Club links here early next month. The tournament begins on Labor Day.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, Metropolitan Champion, who was runner-up last year, is not expected to be present this year. However that Miss Collett will have strong competition is assured by the presence of Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, three times national champion. Several other stars of prominence are expected to play and it is understood several prominent Canadian women golfers will be on hand.

Preston Will Coach Kingston

Carl Preston has been secured as coach of the Kingston semi-prof football team entered in the Hudson Valley League. Preston has always been connected with local gridiron teams in recent years and probably is the most capable man in this city for the job.

The new mentor was head coach at Kingston Academy and has assisted in developing Kingston High School clubs for several seasons. Owing to business matters Preston may not be able to coach them permanently but will handle the eleven until a man is secured who can take charge of the team the entire season. Preston has also worn the uniform of Kingston Academy and Pratt Institute, having won an enviable reputation with both these schools.

The third practice of the team will be held this evening on the Athletic Field. Both practices have been light workouts but now that a coach has been secured the team will get down to stiffer work. The first game of the season is scheduled for September 19, in Newburgh.

Valley Golfers Here Tomorrow

Twaalfskill Club Will Entertain Members of Hudson River Golf Association on Local Links All Day Saturday—Osterhoudt Favored to Win Individual Honors—New Club House Will Be Opened.

Golfers from Hudson, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Middletown, Beacon, Peekskill and Yonkers will be seen in action on the Twaalfskill golf course all day Saturday when the local golf club will entertain the members of the Hudson River Golf Association at a "Saturday-at-Golf".

Each club represented will enter a team in the tournament as well as individual players, who will play for individual honors. The Poughkeepsie team is favored to win the team honors while Henry Osterhoudt of this city is favored to win the individual honors.

Osterhoudt won the individual honors at Hudson a number of weeks ago when the club of that place entertained the members of the association. At that time the Kingston player set a new record for the course. Sometime before that Osterhoudt was defeated in the finals at Koel DeCordova, the new champion of the Dutchess Golf and Country Club, will undoubtedly furnish Osterhoudt the most trouble. However, familiarity with the local course should give the local player the edge.

Walter Buddenhagen, professional at the Twaalfskill Club, will have charge of the tournaments. He is anxious to have a large number of caddies on hand for the tournament and any boys desiring to serve in that capacity should report to him early Saturday morning.

WM Open New House.
Saturday will also witness the opening of the new club house to replace the one which was destroyed by fire some time ago. The new house has been erected on practically the same location as the old one. However it is somewhat larger than the old one.

The new house has been equipped with beautiful furniture and is decorated very attractively throughout. New lockers have also been installed for the convenience of the players. Architect G. W. Betz has been in charge of the building of the new house.

Lightweights Box At Coney Island

New York, Aug. 27 (P).—Two flashy lightweights from the west will mingle tonight at the Coney Island Stadium in a bout that will go far in deciding the logical contender for the division crown now sported by Sammy Mandell of Chicago.

"Ace" Hudkins, Nebraska whirlwind, and Phil McGraw, the Greek from Detroit, are due to settle the question over the championship route of 15 rounds. Measured by the same standard, both have fought ten round draws with Stanislaus Loayza, Chilean contender, although Hudkins' whirlwind finishing against the South American and his knockout of Ruby Goldstein, New York idol, have made him a slight favorite. The Nebraskan expects to be at his best over the distance route.

Maxey Rosenbloom, Harlem sensation, clashes with Johnny Wilson, former middleweight champion of the world.
